

JOURNAL QUESTIONS FOR PASTORAL MUSICIANS FOR THOUGHT AND PRAYER ABOUT DIRECTORS OF MUSIC MINISTRIES

How do you make life easier for your director of music ministries?
Are there things you could do differently that would make the job easier?

When does your director seem to be the most stressed?

Take a moment to craft and offer a prayer for your director:

Which parts of this job do you think are the most rewarding?
Which must be the most frustrating?

What have you learned about a director's job that you did not know before?

Take a minute and think of three ways that your director of music ministries enhances the life of your parish.
If you can, take a minute and thank your director.

“The director of music ministries fosters the active participation of the liturgical assembly in singing; coordinates the preparation of music to be sung at various liturgical celebrations; and promotes the ministries of choirs, psalmists, cantors, organists, and all who play instruments that serve the Liturgy.”
